DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because of improper language. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b). Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

Further, the reference characters should be within parentheses.

Claim Objections

The claims are objected to because of the following informalities: claim 2, line 4 should read "collecting" and claim 5, line 5 should read "for discriminating a supply". Appropriate correction is required.

Examiner advises Applicant to thoroughly review the specification for these types of errors as they are common in translated applications.

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the discriminating means (claims 1, 5) must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. Here, Applicant claims a sorting device with a discriminating means but has failed to properly describe or teach a discriminating means in a written or graphical form within the specification. This is a crucial flaw as Applicant's apparatus has two or three main elements and Applicant has failed to properly disclose how one element is structured or operates. Consequently, the claimed invention is not properly enabled.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

As described above, Applicant has failed to properly teach a discriminating means, thus the scope of the claims are also rendered indefinite. See MPEP 2185.

Further, the language "a distributing means for distributing conveying direction of the medicine package belt" (claim 1) is nonsensical and thus indefinite. Examiner requests clarification.
